Peace in the Middle East!?

Now it's YOUR turn to make it happen!

From 8th-11th July 2010 a student simulation of the political reality of the Middle East will take place at the Technische Universität Darmstadt in Darmstadt, Germany. The goal is to foster a deeper understanding of the conflict in the Middle East. About forty international students will convene and represent the key actors of the regional conflict as delegations.

This is an extraordinary opportunity to not only meet people from all over the world, but also to get an impression of German university life and culture.

The application process is open until the 21th of May. To apply just visit our website and fill in the application form.

In order to be able to participate:

- You must be a member of a university or college
- Have some interest in the Middle East conflict
- Demonstrate proficiency in English (working language of the simulation)
- Transfer the participation fee of 100 Euro (includes accommodation, food & beverages as well as social events).
